Hartley's

Army Blanket Sale

SATURDAY, APRIL 10

Hartley's Drive a Wedge into the High Cost of Living

We're out to do the unusual. To beat Old High Cost. For example. When we see a chance to buy goods at a low figure, we grab it—stock up. Then plump the whole lot in a selling event like this. To hundreds of people in Fairmont and vicinity this occasion offers the biggest and best kind of economy there is. Because savings are as extraordinary as they are unexpected. And because every blanket is absolutely dependable and desirable.

No Matter Whether You Intend to Buy Blankets and No Matter What You Intended to Spend You Can Afford to Buy These Blankets Because of Their Economy.

This is our first allotment of Army Blankets. If this sale proves that people are interested in this class of merchandise we will buy enough Blankets to supply the demand.

Some of these Blankets are new, some have been used. The used Blankets have been thoroughly laundered and renovated—being exposed to 400 degrees Fahrenheit and thoroughly inspected by an officer of the United States Government, they are absolutely sanitary. These blankets were bought very low and we are selling them very low—the government will not allow anything but nominal profit to be made upon this merchandise. The Government could sell every Blanket to one firm of which there are any number ready to buy the whole lot. But the government wants these Blankets distributed to the greatest number of buyers.

Here are cotton Blankets as cheap as 98c. They have been used but thoroughly renovated. Here are Blankets half the price of sheets yet double (they come in pairs.)
